Continuation of the Review of the publick Buildings, &c.

THE Monument of Mr. Thynn, falls next under our Conſideration; one of the moſt celebrated Things in the Abbey: 'Tis indeed in a moſt elegant Taſte, and the Execution is equal to the Deſign: The languid dying Poſture he is plac'd in, with the Action of his Hand, directing the Spectator to the tragick Story of his Death, which was once ingrav'd behind him, are beautifully conſiſtent with each other, and muſt have had a very pathetic Influence on all who beheld it; particularly, as ſo ſtrongly inforc'd with the fine Relief, which repreſented the Murder below: But ſince the Caprice of ſome, or the Prejudice and Intereſts of others, have eraz'd the Inſcription, neither his Action, nor that of the inimitable Boy at his Feet, can be thoroughly underſtood, unleſs conſider'd in the Light it was firſt intended to appear in, as deſcrib'd above.

The execrable Gothique Heap, which was erected at ſo great an Expence, in Honour of ſo brave a Man as Sir Cloudeſly Shovel, and even by his Sovereign herſelf, has been ſo emphatically and juſtly expos'd in the Spectator already, that I have no Need to ſay any Thing more on that Subject; I ſhall only beg Leave, to put the two neighbouring Tombs of Admiral Churchill, and Mr. Stepney, in the ſame Rank of Cenſure, ſince they are almoſt as coſtly, and full as unmeaning and ridiculous.

I muſt now paſs over ſeveral wretched Things, that are unworthy of Obſervation, in Order to haſten to the Corner of the Poets; but, by the Way, cannot overlook the droll Figure, lately ſet up, at the Charge of a noble Peer, to the Memory of Grabe the Commentator: He is elevated high on a Sort of Funeral Cheſt, with a Lamp by his Side, and a Pen in his Hand, to repreſent, I ſuppoſe, his unwearied Application to Study in his Life time; but then the ridiculous Height of the Statue, the Clumſineſs of the Attitude, and the Oddneſs of the Employ, never fail to excite Laughter in all who behold them: In ſhort, he looks like a Boy on a high Joint-Stool, kicking his Heels about, and afraid of tumbling every Moment.

I don't know any Circumſtance which diſtinguiſhes the real Patron ſo much, as paying the laſt Compliment of an Urn and Inſcription to the Aſhes of a dead Genius: It argues a thorough and diſintereſted Eſteem for Merit, ſets the faireſt Example of Magnanimity for the Great to follow, and excites the nobleſt Emulation among the Learned to deſerve a like Honour.

In this View, I am charm'd with the Recollection, that the venerable Names of Spencer, Johnſon, Cowley, and Dryden, have been perpetuated with juſt and noble Diſtinctions, by ſuch noble Perſonages as Sheffield, and Villiers, Dukes of Buckingham, the preſent Earl of Oxford, and Devereux, Earl of Eſſex: Some Diſtinction, 'tis true, is neceſſary to be made in the Share of Applauſe, which is due to theſe Noblemen, for the ſame humane and generous Action: The Earls of Eſſex and Oxford did this Honour to Johnſon and Spencer without complimenting themſelves at the ſame Time, by inſcribing their own Names on the Stone; a delicate Piece of Self-Denial which Villiers and Sheffield had not Firmneſs enough to practiſe, in their Generoſities to Dryden and Cowley.

The preſent Dutcheſs of Buckingham will, however, have an equitable Claim to ſhare in Glory with the firſt: For ſhe, juſtly diſliking the Buſt, which was firſt ſet up for Mr. Dryden, order'd it, at her own Expence, to be remov'd, and another plac'd in its Stead. At once unwilling that her dead Lord's Humanity ſhould be cenſur'd for want of Taſte, and diſſatisfy'd with the Glory of ſuch an Action, unleſs the Thing itſelf agreed exactly with the Intent of raiſing it.—The preſent Buſt is far from being contemptible, and the whole Tomb ſimple, if not magnificent.

I am always much ſurpriz'd to ſee ſo wretched a Thing as that erected to the Memory of Mr. Phillips, inſcrib'd with the Name of Harcourt: One would have naturally imagin'd that whoever aim'd at a publick Ornament, would endeavour at ſomething like Elegance too; one would have expected it in a more eminent Degree, from ſuch a Name as this: But, on the contrary, nothing is more oppoſite, nothing can be more contemptible: It is even a Burleſque upon Monuments, and, inſtead of doing Honour either to the Founder, or the Perſon 'tis conſecrated to, indicates very ſtrongly, that either one had not Merit enough to deſerve a better, or the other had not Spirit and Taſte enough to do it Juſtice.

The Buſt of Johnſon is executed with great Happineſs, and looks with abundance of Life, and Spirit: The Tablature 'tis incloſ'd in is beautiful, and the Decorations few, proper, and elegant. To talk like a Critick, there is nothing wanting but a Note of Admiration, at the End of the Inſcription: O rare Ben Johnſon!

Tho' the Tomb of Spencer has ſuffer'd greatly by Time, and was erected in an Age when Taſte was in its Infancy in England, yet there is ſomething in it venerably plain, and not abſurdly ornamental. The Materials were certainly very rich, and I don't recollect any of the ſame Standing, that deſerve ſo little Cenſure.

I am pleas'd to ſee the Buſt of the great Butler here on any Terms, but 'twould have given me much greater Satisfaction, to ſee it rais'd in a more magnificent Manner, and by ſuch Perſons too as might have reflected greater Honour on his Memory; tho' his own Merits were ſo eminent, as to need no publick Acknowledgment to make them immortal.

The Buſts of Shadwell, and St. Evremond, are neither of them very extraordinary, and therefore I ſhall content myſelf with this bare Mention, that they are there.

Mr. Prior's Monument I cannot ſo eaſily paſs over, becauſe 'tis meant to be magnificent, and was deſign'd to call upon the Attention of Mankind: Undoubtedly few Men had ever better Title to a ſepulchral Trophy, than this Author; but ſtill I ſhould have been more pleas'd if it had been erected at any other Perſon's Charge, rather than his own: 'Tis extending our Vanity beyond the Grave, and making the Envy of Mankind eternal. As to the Tomb itſelf, I muſt be free enough to confeſs, I am not intirely ſatisfied with it: His own Buſt, which is deſign'd to be the principal Figure, is hurt by the whole Statues on either Side; and 'tis not to be queſtion'd but a ſimple Urn, with the Head on a Pedeſtal over it, would have had a finer Effect, and better preſerv'd our Admiration. The Head itſelf is certainly perform'd with great Maſtery, and is juſtly eſteem'd one of the beſt Things in England; and yet, if a little French Embroidery on the Cap, and Drapery, were ſpar'd, I believe it would be far from a Diſadvantage to it, becauſe it would be then more a-kin to the Chaſtity, and Purity of the Antique.

I believe every one, that viſits this ſacred Repoſitory of the illuſtrious Dead, cannot help looking round, like me, for the divine Milton, and the immortal Shakeſpear; Names which are the Honour of their Country, and yet have receiv'd no Honour from it; Names which every Foreigner muſt enquire for, and miſs with Regret and Uneaſineſs to himſelf, and Cenſure and Diſeſteem to us: That Milton, indeed, has been deny'd this Privilege, I don't ſo much wonder, becauſe he oppos'd the Prieſthood; an Injury which they can neither forget, nor forgive: An Injury that the Merit of half Mankind united in one Perſon can never atone for, and which the Fraternity will reſent as long as the Name of the Aggreſſor ſurvives their Malice, and Perſecution.

But this was not Shakeſpear's Caſe; a Man whoſe Works have been the Bread of Thouſands, and the Entertainment of whole Nations for above an Age together; who was almoſt the Creator of the Engliſh Stage, and the Support of it ever ſince; and yet, notwithſtanding all his own Merits, and the continued Benefits he has been the Inſtrument of procuring others, not one honorary Stone has diſtinguiſh'd him among the Sons of the Muſes: Not one grateful Line acknowledg'd the Influence of his ſuperior Genius: A Neglect ſo ſhameful that it reflects, in the ſevereſt Manner, both on thoſe who have grown rich by his Labours, and thoſe who have been entertained ſo frequently with their Repreſentations.

SATURDAY, Jan. 19.

LATE laſt Night the Seſſions ended at the Old Bailey, when the ten following Malefactors received Sentence of Death, viz.

William Symonds and Samuel Steel, for a Robbery on the Highway near Kenſington, on the Information of William Fridzar, one of their Accomplices.

George Peters and William Symonds, for a Robbery on the Highway, on the Evidence of Ralph Mitchell, formerly an Evidence againſt Brown, Whitlock, and others, for robbing Col. Des Romain at Paddington.

George Cottrell, for Burglary; James Belford, for a Street-Robbery; Henry Tilſon and Henry Worral, for Burglary; James Macdonald, for a Robbery on the Highway; and John Trevers, a Youth about 13 Years of Age, for Burglary.

The noted Peter Buck was tried for ſtealing a Handkerchief out of a Man's Pocket, and found guilty of ſingle Felony only, and caſt for Tranſportation.

A Bailiff was tried for robbing one Lilly, whom he had arreſted; and after a long Trial, he was acquitted, and the Proſecutor committed to Newgate by the Court, in order to be tried next Seſſions, for wilful and corrupt Perjury.

Yeſterday the Right Hon. the Houſe of Lords waited on his Majeſty at St. James's, with a moſt dutiful and loyal Addreſs of Thanks for his moſt gracious Speech from the Throne; to which his Majeſty was pleas'd to return the following Anſwer:

My Lords,

I thank you for this dutiful and loyal Addreſs. The Satisfaction you expreſs in my conſtant Attention and Endeavours for preſerving the publick Peace and Tranquility, and promoting the Intereſts of my People, is extreamly acceptable to me; and as the Honour and Dignity of my Crown, and the Good of my Kingdoms, are my ſole View, you may be aſſured of the Continuance of my Care and Vigilance for thoſe deſirable Ends, and of my firm Reſolution in all Events, to take ſuch Meaſures as may beſt anſwer the Confidence you repoſe in me, and ſecure the Safety and Happineſs of the Nation.

Deaths. Yeſterday died at Eton, the Rev. Dr. Evans, Senior Fellow of that College.—Laſt Night died at Hampſtead, John Downs, formerly an eminent Hamburgh Merchant of this City.

MONDAY, Jan. 21.

Yeſterday being the Anniverſary of the Birth of his Royal Highneſs Frederick, Prince of Wales, who then entered into the 28th Year of his Age, the Morning was uſhered in with Ringing of Bells; and at Noon moſt of the Foreign Miniſters and a great Concourſe of Perſons of Quality and Diſtinction paid their Compliments at St. James's to his Majeſty, his Royal Highneſs, and the reſt of the Royal Family; but the ſame falling on a Sunday, the publick Rejoicings were put off to this Day, when his Royal Highneſs's Livery Servants appeared in their new Liveries.

The Truſtees for the new Colony of Georgia have ordered that their Boards, which were held on Mondays, Wedneſdays and Fridays, ſhould, during the preſent Seſſion of Parliament, be held on Saturdays, the major Part of the ſaid Truſtees being Members of the Honourable Houſe of Commons.

The Corps of the Right Hon. William Stafford Howard, Earl of Stafford, who lately died at Paris, has been depoſited in a Vault in the Church of Notre Dame in that City.

On Saturday laſt about Noon, as Mr. Robſon, Church-Warden of St. Giles's Cripplegate, and Mr. Stagg the Veſtry-Clerk, were returning in a Chaiſe from Maidſtone in Kent, where they had been about Pariſh Buſineſs, they were attack'd by a ſingle Highwayman near Bexley-Heath, who preſenting a Piſtol at them, Mr. Stagg having a Fowling-Piece loaded with ſmall Shot, fir'd at him, and ſlightly wounded him in his Arm and Neck, and immediately jumping out of the Chaiſe, with the But-End of his Gun knock'd him off his Horſe, when Mr. Robſon the Church-Warden, and the Pariſh Warder who was behind the Chaiſe, coming to Mr. Stagg's Aſſiſtance, they ſecur'd him, and carried him before a Juſtice of the Peace, who committed him to Maidſtone Jail. He had a Hanger by his Side, and three Piſtols loaded with Bullets, and 'tis thought that this is not the firſt Attempt that he has lately made on that Road; he calls himſelf by the Name of William Haines, and was formerly an Apprentice to one Dance, a Maſon in Lothbury.

On Wedneſday laſt his Majeſty in Council was pleas'd to appoint the following Sheriffs, viz.

Derby,	George Mower, Eſq;
Oxon,	Francis Heywood, Eſq;

GRAFTON.

Marriages. Laſt Saturday Manſell Powell, Eſq; High Sheriff for the County of Hereford, was married to Miſs Hoar, Grandaughter of the late Sir Richard Hoar, Knt. formerly Lord Mayor of the City of London, a young Lady of 100,000l. Fortune.——A few Days ago Sir John Bennet, of Kirby in Yorkſhire, and Francis Egleſton, Eſq; of York, were married to two Daughters of James Spragg, Eſq; of Malton in the ſame County.——Laſt Thurſday Lancelot Tolſon Tilly, Eſq; of the Middle-Temple, was married to Miſs Beſtman, Daughter and only Child of Gabriel Beſtman, of Ranſted-place-Houſe in Surrey, Eſq;

Deaths. Laſt Friday died, at his Houſe on Bednal-Green, Mr. Harris, formerly a Grazier, who by his Buſineſs had obtained an Eſtate of about 800l. per Annum. beſides which he was worth 20,000l. He died of a Fever, which he was flung into by his Legs, and one of his Arms being broke, when he threw himſelf out of a Window ſome Days ſince.——Yeſterday died the Hon. Lady Millman, in Ormond-ſtreet near Queen-Square.

Bankrupts. John Hall, of the Pariſh of St. Clement Danes, in the County of Middleſex, Draper and Taylor.——Samuel Lane, of Bradford in the County of Wilts, Clothier.——Jeffery Whitaker, of Doncaſter, in the County of York, Cornfactor and Chapman.

TUESDAY, Jan. 22.

Yeſterday Orders were given by the Board of Green-Cloth, that the Apartments belonging to the Prince of Orange at Somerſet-Houſe, be forthwith got in Readineſs for his Highneſs's Reception.

On Saturday laſt the Body of a Man well dreſſed was obſerved floating upon one of Hyde-Park Ponds, which was taken out, and exhibited to publick View; but as yet is not owned. It is believed, the Misfortune came by ſeating on the Ice, and falling in when no Body was preſent to give him Aſſiſtance.

Laſt Sunday a Barn full of Corn and Peaſe, and ſeveral Hayricks, belonging to a Farmer in the Pariſh of Weſtbury in the County of Glouceſter, was burnt to the Ground, by an unlucky Boy's throwing a Squib in the ſaid Barn. The Farmer was abſent to viſit ſome Relations in the Country when this Mitfortune befel him.

Laſt Week was enter'd at the Cuſtom-houſe for Exportation, 5192 Quarters of Wheat, 150 Quarters of Rye, and 100 Quarters of Barley.

Laſt Week a Gentleman having been at a Friend's Houſe at Supper, order'd a Coach to be call'd about Twelve o'Clock at Night, and directed the Coachman to drive into the City; inſtead of which, the Fellow drove up and down ſeveral By-Lanes as hard as he could, the Gentleman all the while calling out to the Watch, but none came near him: At laſt perceiving the Coachman was driving him towards Tyburn, (two Fellows being on the Box and one behind) with an Intent, as he ſuppoſed, to rob him, he open'd the Coach-Door, jump'd out, and got ſafe off: His Friend's Servant had luckily taken the Number of the Coach, by which the Gentleman on Thurſday laſt found the Coachman at Fleet-Ditch, and had him committed to Newgate. It is hop'd this will be a Caution to other People always to take the Number of the Coach; and it were to be wiſh'd that the Legiſlature would lay all Fines, Puniſhments, &c. on the Profeſſor or Owner of the Figure; for the Penalty now being only on the Driver, the Fellow, as ſoon as he has committed a Fault, runs away, and the Perſon aggriev'd gets no Redreſs; which is the principal Reaſon why the Drivers are ſo inſolent to Gentlemen.

On Thurſday laſt the Miniſters and Church-Wardens of the United Pariſhes of St. Edmund the King, and St. Nicholas Acon, collected upwards of 80l. towards ſettling our new Colony at Georgia; to which noble Deſign, Mr. Peter Symonds, an eminent French Merchant in Nicholas-Lane, was pleaſed to give ten Guineas.

The Houſe of Commons will receive no Petition for private Bills, after the ſecond Day of March next.

Yeſterday the Ballot taken by the York-Buildings Company, upon the Queſtion for making a Call of one Half per Cent. on the Proprietors, in order to proſecute the Company's Application to Parliament, and to carry on their other Affairs, was cloſed, when upon caſting up the Votes, they ſtood

Laſt Night a Lodge of free and accepted Maſons, of which his Grace the Duke of Marlborough is Maſter, was eſtabliſhed at the Key and Garter Tavern in Pall-Mall.

We hear from Kells in Ireland, of an odd Accident which happened at Pain's-Town near that Place, a few Days paſt, viz. A Labourer working ſome ſloughy Ground, ſtepping from one Place to another, ſunk in up to his Knee, and endeavouring to draw forth his Leg, found it held ſo firmly, that all his Strength was not able to move it in the leaſt; on which he called to ſeveral People in a great Fright, begging their Aſſiſtance, which he had accordingly; but no Force could ſtir him, though the poor Fellow was almoſt torne to Pieces in their Attempts: Neither could they dig him out, the Earth and ſloughy Moiſture coming on him from all Sides as faſt as they made any Way: In this Condition he continued from Nine in the Morning till Three the next Morning, begging piteouſly to have his Leg cut off; till one of more Thought than the reſt, conſidering what might be the natural Cauſe of ſuch a ſtrange Buſineſs, ordered a Man to make Way to his Foot with a Knife, and cut off the Sole of his Brogue; which was done with ſome ſmall Difficulty, and he was immediately relieved, the Slabbineſs of the Leather only occaſioning the Suction which held him down ſo ſtrongly.

Extract of a Letter from Savannah in Georgia, September 16, 1733.

I am not a little pleas'd with the Proſpect before me, and with my coming into this Country, which I doubt not will be the happieſt Undertaking I ever reſolv'd upon. And indeed it is impoſſible to fail being happy in this Place, if we be not wanting to ourſelves in Induſtry and Frugality. Our Town ſtands upon a pleaſant and airy Spot of Ground; the Country about it is pleaſant, open and fruitful, and affords abundance of fine Fruits; it abounds alſo with fine Veniſon, wild Fowls of all Sorts, Geeſe, Turkeys, Ducks and all other Kinds, which fly in ſuch Cluſters, that a Man muſt be a very bad Marksman if he miſs bringing down ſome of them every Time he ſhoots. Here is likewiſe Plenty of Fiſh, eſpecially Sturgeon. This Country alſo produces fine large Grapes, ſuch as they make Wine of in other Countries: And as we have likewiſe great Store of Mulberry-Trees, by Means of which Silk-Worms may be fed and propagated, we make no Doubt but we ſhall, in due Time, be enabled to make a large and grateful Return to our Mother Country, for the kind Aſſiſtance ſhe lends to our Infant State. I want Words to expreſs what we owe to the indefatigable Care and Pains of Mr. Oglethorpe, for his generous Endeavours to ſerve this new Plantation. We have alſo to acknowledge abundance of Civility and Encouragement from the Aſſembly of South-Carolina, the Gentry of Charles-Town, and all the neighbouring Settlements, from whom we have receiv'd many Preſents; and the Aſſembly aforeſaid has allow'd us a Year's Proviſions, beſides what was given us by the Truſtees, to whoſe Care for us we can never acknowledge ourſelves enough obliged.

Death. Yeſterday died, at Bromley in Middleſex, Joſeph Collier, Eſq; formerly an eminent Sugar-Baker of this City.

WEDNESDAY, Jan. 23.

They write from Cadiz, that their laſt Advices from the Havanna confirm the Accounts formerly receiv'd, that all the Silver is ſav'd from the late Wreck of the Flotilla, but that the Cochineal and Indigo is greatly damaged.

His Excellency the Earl Waldegrave, his Majeſty's Ambaſſador Extraordinary at the Court of France, is indefatigable in his Negotiations for reſtoring the Peace of Europe, on a Plan which his Majeſty is ſaid to have propos'd to the moſt Chriſtian King for a general Pacification: Couriers arrive, and are return'd almoſt daily to Paris, with Diſpatches relating to that important Affair.

We hear, that ſome Overtures having been made, by a certain Miniſter at the Court of Spain, to Don Patinho, their Catholick Majeſties Prime Miniſter, on the ſame Subject, with Deſire that the ſame might be communicated to their Catholick Majeſties, that Gentleman anſwer'd, That it would be as much as his Life was worth to attempt it; for that the King and Queen were ſo exceedingly irritated againſt the Emperor, they could not endure the very Mention of an Agreement.

They write from Bruſſels, that the young Princeſs of which the Princeſs of Hornes, Daughter to the Right Hon. the Earl of Aylesbury by a ſecond Venter, and Siſter-in-Law to the Lord Bruce, was deliver'd, about eight Months ago, was chriſten'd there the 11th Inſtant with great Splendour, Prince Claudius de Ligne being Godfather, and an elder Siſter of the young Princeſs, about nine Years of Age, Godmother. The Earl of Aylesbury gave the ſame Day a very magnificent Entertainment to the Nobility of Bruſſels on that Occaſion.

We have an Account from Paris, that the famous Monſ. de Voltaire, Author of the Life of Charles XII. King of Sweden, and of ſeveral celebrated Tragedies; as likewiſe of the Henriade, which Poem he wrote during his Reſidence in this City; has been ſo terribly mortify'd at Paris in the Reception of his new Tragedy call'd Adelaida, that he threatens to return hither, and rob the Ingrates, in his Ire, of the ſole Poet they have fit to ſing the Campaign of Italy and the taking Fort Kehl.

'Tis added, that the Chevalier Ramſay, a Scotch Gentleman, Author of the celebrated Travels of Cyrus, is at preſent on another Work no leſs beneficial to the Publick; 'tis the Hiſtory of the famous Marſhal de Turenne, and will contain proper Leſſons of Conduct and Valour, for the Service of the young Adventurers in the preſent War.

Yeſterday Biſhop Strickland, a Native of England, who has been here about ten Months, and met with the higheſt Civilities at the Britiſh Court, embark'd in the River, in order to return to his Biſhoprick of Namur in Flanders.

Preferments. Yeſterday Mr. Birch was choſen Steward of Bethlehem-Hoſpital, in the room of Mr. Weſton, deceas'd. The Votes were for Mr. Birch 114, for Mr. Blacket 78.——His Majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint the Hon. Robert Mac Cartney, Eſq; a Relation of the preſent Duke of Marlborough, and a Captain in the Royal Navy, to be Governor and Commander in Chief of Newfoundland, and of the Fort and Garriſon of Placentia.——His Majeſty has alſo been pleaſed to appoint Walter Campbell, Eſq; to be Receiver-General and Caſhier for the Cuſtoms of Scotland, in the room of Mungo Graham, Eſq; deceaſed.

Deaths. A few Days ſince died, at Thames Ditton in Middleſex, Francis Fuller, Eſq; a Gentleman poſſeſs'd of a plentiful Eſtate.——Yeſterday died Mr. James Filler, an eminent Weſt-India Merchant, at his Houſe in Tower-ſtreet.

THURSDAY, Jan. 24.

Laſt Week a very uncommon Affair happen'd at a Village near Bradford, in the County of Wilts. A Farmer who had loſt a Quantity of Wood out of his Yard at ſundry Times, and finding a Difficulty to detect the Thief, thought of the following Stratagem: He made a Cavity in a large Block of Wood, put a conſiderable Quantity of Gunpowder into it, and then ſtopt up the Hole. The Perſon came as uſual, and convey'd off the Block; and the next Day being Sunday, makes a Fire with it, and hangs on the Pot with Beef and Pudding. His Wife went afterwards to Church, and 'tis thought, he to an Alehouſe; but on their Return home, to their great Surprize, they found the Top of their Chimney blown up, and the Pot, &c. in the Middle of the Highway. The Thief proves to be a Scrivener, and is well known by the Name of Bradford Jack, who has ſince thought proper to make an Elopement.

Yeſterday a poor Woman dropp'd down dead in Tothill-ſtreet, Weſtminſter, as ſhe was ſelling Meat, being uſed to that Buſineſs about the Streets.

When the Houſe of Commons waited on his Majeſty on Saturday, with a dutiful and loyal Addreſs, his Majeſty return'd the following moſt gracious Anſwer.

Gentlemen,

I return you my Thanks for this very dutiful, affectionate, and loyal Addreſs; and for the Confidence, you repoſe in me, which, you may be aſſured, ſhall always be employed for the Honour of my Crown, and the true Intereſt of my People.

The Right Hon. the Houſe of Peers have appointed the Right Rev. Dr. Thomas Sherlock, Lord Biſhop of Bangor, to preach before them on Wedneſday next, being the Martyrdom of King Charles I. at the Collegiate Church of St. Peter's, Weſtminſter.

Their Lordſhips have likewiſe order'd, that no Petitions for private Bills be received after the 28th of February next.

Yeſterday being the firſt Day of Hilary Term, the Rt. Hon. the Lord Chancellor, the Maſter of the Rolls, and the Judges, went in the uſual State to Weſtminſter-Hall, where ſeveral Perſons, who ſtood bound over, appeared on their Recognizances at the King's-Bench Bar, and ſome were diſcharged and others continued.

The Right Hon. the Lord Chancellor, as alſo the Maſter of the Rolls, took the Oaths in the Court of Chancery, in Preſence of the Earl of Wilmington, Preſident of his Majeſty's Council; the Lord Lonſdale, Lord Privy Seal; the Duke of Rutland, Chancellor of the Dutchy Court, and the Earl of Scarborough, Maſter of the Horſe to the King; it being the firſt Time of his Lordſhip's ſitting as Chancellor of that Court.

We hear that the Sum of one Million and an Half will be raiſed this Year by a State-Lottery, and that a Bill will ſpeedily be brought into Parliament for that Purpoſe.

Yeſterday ſeveral Workmen were employ'd in removing the Furniture belonging to the Company of Upholders in Exeter-Change in the Strand, which is to be clear'd by the 28th Inſtant, in Order for the Drawing of the Lottery granted by Parliament for Relief of the Sufferers of the Charitable Corporation; and the Wheels are to be carried there next Week for that Purpoſe.

On Tueſday laſt came on at Doctors-Commons, a Cauſe before the Right Worſhipful John Betteſworth, Doctor of Laws, Judge of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury, between the Executor of Sir Ralph Hare, Bart. and the Widow of the ſaid Sir Ralph, the Executor denying her to be ſuch; when after hearing learned Arguments by Counſel on both Sides, the Judge pronounced for the Intereſt of the Widow, as Relict of the ſaid Deceaſed, and a further Conteſt is carrying on concerning the Validity of the ſaid Will.

On Tueſday laſt the Wife of Thomas Sloane, Eſq; Nephew to Sir Hans Sloane, Bart. was ſafely delivered of a Daughter.

Preferment. Laſt Sunday the Rev. Dr. Rundall, Prebend of Durham, kiſs'd the King's Hand on his being promoted to the Biſhoprick of Glouceſter, in the room of Dr. Elias Syddal, deceas'd; and Yeſterday the Conge d'Elire was ſent to the Chapter of Durham, for the Election of the ſaid Gentleman.

Marriage. A few Days ſince James Phillips, jun. Eſq; Son of James Phillips, of Pentipark in the County of Carmarthen, Eſq; Member in the laſt Parliament for the Town of Carmarthen, was married to Miſs Price, Siſter to the Wife of John Campbell, Member of Parliament for the County of Pembroke.

Death. Yeſterday died, at Kenſington-Gravel-Pits, Joſhua Cowper, Eſq; one of his Majeſty's Juſtices of the Peace for the County of Middleſex.

Bankrupts. William Marſland, of Cornhill, London, Hard-ware-man.——John King, of the Pariſh of Chriſt-Church in Spittle-fields, in the County of Middleſex, Dyer.

FRIDAY, Jan. 25.

We are aſſured, that the Marriage of the Prince of Orange, with the Princeſs Royal, will be ſolemnized in the French Chapel at St. James's on the 1ſt of March next, being the Anniverſary of the Birth of her Majeſty; and that the ſame will be ſolemnized in the Manner it was firſt intended.

Yeſterday the Lady of the Right Hon. the Lord Harvey, Vice-Chamberlain of his Majeſty's Houſhold, was ſafely delivered of a Daughter, at his Lordſhip's Apartments in St. James's-Houſe.

The ſame Day the Officers of ſeveral Men of War, lately put in Commiſſion, beat up for Sailors in the Suburbs of this City with great Succeſs.

On Tueſday laſt a Weaver's Boy in Spittle-Fields being ſent of an Errand by his Maſter, to buy ſome Neceſſaries, went to play and loſt his Money; and being fearful of being beat as ſoon as he got Home, went up into the Garret and hanged himſelf.

On Sunday laſt the Wife of one David Jenkins, a Chairman in Axe-Yard, King ſtreet, Weſtminſter, was brought to Bed of three Sons, who were immediately chriſten'd by the Names of David, James, and Frederick, the laſt is ſince dead.

We hear that a Bill will ſhortly be brought into Parliament, for Rebuilding the Pariſh-Church of St. Leonard's, Shoreditch.

'Tis written from Bath, that the Prince of Orange continues to recover Health and Strength: His Highneſs rides out in his Coach or on Horſeback every Day, and in the Afternoon plays at Billiards, and goes in the Evening to the Balls and Aſſemblies, but never ſtays out longer than Nine, by which Hour in the Morning he is always at the Pump.

The Rev. Dr. Felton is appointed to preach before the Hon. Houſe of Commons on Wedneſday next, being the Martyrdom of King Charles I.

Her Majeſty being perfectly recovered of her late Fit of the Gout, there was a Drawing-Room at St. James's this Evening, in which her Majeſty received the Compliments of the Nobility and Quality, on her Recovery.

On Wedneſday Night a Fire broke out in a Houſe in Addle ſtreet, over againſt Brewers-Hall, by the Careleſſneſs of a Maid-Servant, who ſat up for a Lodger, by leaving a Candle in the Window, which ſet Fire to the Curtains and Furniture in the Room; but it being immediately diſcovered by ſome Tallow-Chandlers, who were at Work over the Way, it was happily extinguiſhed without doing much Damage.

Wheat roſe again laſt Market-Day at Reading to 4*s.* 6*d. per* Buſhel.

Marriage. A few Days ſince Counſellor Ayloffe, Son of Sir Joſeph Ayloffe, was married to Mrs. Railton, Relict of the late Juſtice Railton, of Weſtminſter, with whom he had a Fortune of 12,000 l.

Death. Yeſterday died, at his Houſe in Turnmill ſtreet, Mr. John Wilks, ſen. an eminent Wholeſale Diſtiller, who is ſaid to have died worth upwards of 100,000 l.

FOREIGN NEWS.

Vienna, Jan. 16. N. S.

BY our laſt Letters from Conſtantinople, of the 12th of December, this Court and ſeveral of the Foreign Miniſters reſiding here received a Confirmation of the Victory gained by the Perſians over the Ottoman Army; with the following Particulars, viz. That the Perſian General Kouli-Kan, in Order to deceive the Turks, ſent a Detachment of about 12,000 Men from his Camp, to reconnoitre the Ottoman Army: That thereupon the Turks marched to meet the ſaid Detachment: That the Perſians retreated fighting till they came to a Place where they had Retrenchments: That here the famous Kouli Kan had an Opportunity of putting his Stratagem in Execution, to wit, by conveying a forged Letter to Topal Oſman, General of the Turks, to acquaint him, that there were great Diſſenſions in the Perſian Army; that a certain Nation among them was ſo diſguſted, that he had nothing to do but to march directly againſt the Perſians and attack them, and that Nation would immediately join him, and render the Victory ſecure; beſides that the Perſian Generals were ſo divided, that they were ready to ſheathe their Swords in each others Bodies, &c. That the Turkiſh General being thus [eaſily] impoſed upon, marched againſt the Perſians: That Kouli-Kan made an Opening in the Center of his Army, dividing it into two Wings, between which he received the Turks, and fell upon them with ſo great Fury, that he gained a compleat Victory over them, their General Topal Oſman being of the Number of the Slain. After this Account, the Letters could do no leſs than add, that it had cauſed a great Conſternation at Conſtantinople, for fear the Perſians ſhould follow their Blow.

Tarnowitz, Jan. 7. N. S. The Royal Poliſh Court here have received Advice from the Court of Ruſſia, of the Victory which the Perſians have gained over the Turks, according to the Letter, arrived here from Ispahan, by the Way of Derbent: among which was the Copy of Thamas Kouli-Kan's Letter to the Sophi, which runs thus.

Immortal Glory to the One Almighty God; and Everlaſting Honour to his Great Prophet Ali, who is adoring the Eternal God in his Preſence to all Eternity!

Invincible Emperor of all Kings, Princes, and Sovereigns of the rich and magnificent Eaſt, my true and only Maſter under Almighty God; I wiſh the Mouth of Truth of the Holy Prophet, and the Protection of his Arm, may accompany you always, during the whole Courſe of your glorious Life!

May your Imperial Sublimeneſs be pleaſed to receive with Joy the News of the victorious Exploits of your Troops! Your Army, which I command with the abſolute Authority you conferred upon me, being conducted by the Fire and Thunder of the Almighty, has defeated and humbled the Power of your Enemies, and eſtabliſhed your Throne upon Foundations of Braſs. The Courage of your Troops, and particularly of your invincible Cavalry has deſtroyed them: Their Flight, like that of reeling Drunkards, has covered them with Shame and Confuſion; and the Edge of the Sword has filled the whole Field of Battle with their dead Bodies.

The brave and truſty Erkeas Scheny brings your Imperial Sublimeneſs the Particulars of our Battle, while I am purſuing the Remains of the vile Fugitives, to the immortal Honour of your Name and your Empire,

With this Copy came alſo the following.

The Relation of Erkeas Scheny agreeing in the principal Circumſtances with what was brought about a Fortnight before, we ſhall not repeat it here, but content ourſelves with inſerting ſome further Particulars.

The Left Wing of the Perſians, commanded by Kouli-Kan, met with a ſtout Reſiſtance on the Part of Topal Oſman's Right Wing, that Seraſkier and his whole Wing having made general Charges for three Hours together: And in Regard the Janizaries, tho' paſhed and forced to give Ground ſix ſeveral Times, yet as often rallied and returned to the Charge, there were upwards of 17,000 Men killed on both Sides, and almoſt with equal Loſs, upon the Field of Battle: But when the Janizaries were at laſt irrecoverably beaten, our Cavalry made a moſt dreadful Slaughter of them; (theſe are Erkeas Scheny's own Words.) Afterwards the ſaid Cavalry, ſupported by a Body of Foot of 20,000 Men, fell upon the Center, or Corps de Bataille, who made a very poor Defence; ſo that they killed above 10,000 of them, with the Loſs only of 7 or 800 Perſians; and then our whole Army returned to attack the Seraſkier's Left Wing, who, after a Fight of an Hour and a Quarter, threw down their Arms, without once returning to the Charge; which is not to be wondered at neither, becauſe all the Seraſkier's freſh Troops were in that Wing, except 5 or 6000 Men, who were in the Center, whither, according to the Report of the Fugitives, the Seraſkier Topal Oſman went, for fear of being taken Priſoner by Kouli-Kan after his Defeat; but his Body could not be found. His whole Camp, which was full of magnificent Tents, ſtately Horſes and Camels, a great Quantity of Arms, rich Stuffs, Zequins, Coffee, Rice, &c. was taken by the Perſians, and became their Booty.

According to all Accounts, the Turks had above 50,000 Men killed or wounded, and the Perſians about 30,000, in this Action. The Body that marched to attack the Left Wing, was joined in the Nick of Time by ſome other Perſians, who hewed down all before them, and made no Priſoners, except a few of the principal Officers. The Run-aways of the Right Wing eſcaped for the moſt Part; but almoſt 3000 of them were found dead upon the Roads, who being wounded, had endeavoured to get off.

The Turks loſt nine Baſhaws and Generals, and the Perſians three, after having given illuſtrious Proofs of their Courage in Battle. The Perſians have taken almoſt all the Horſe-Tails in the Turkiſh Army; but the few that eſcaped, could not be purſued, by Reaſon of a dangerous Moraſs. Thamas Kouli-Kan was five Times diſmounted, ſo many Horſes having been ſhot under him; and he himſelf is ſlightly wounded in both his Arms, but would not loſe Time to have them dreſſed.

Theſe Advices have excited in the King and Queen of Poland, a Joy ſuitable to the Importance of their Contents.

Warſaw, Jan. 10. N. S. We are aſſur'd, that the Staniſlaiſt Party having miſcarried in their Deſign of intercepting the Grand Deputation going with the Diploma of Election to Cracow, and deſpairing of any Poſſibility to prevent the Coronation of King Auguſtus, are determin'd to abandon Poland, and aſſemble all their Forces in Poliſh Pruſſia, in order to protect that Country from the Ruſſians Forces. We have certain Advice, that General

Lascy is in full March thither with the Grofs of his Army; the reft of the Troops are fo difpos'd between this Place and Cracow, that they can form themfelves into a Body in 48 Hours Time.

Thorn, Jan. 18. Yefterday at Six in the Morning, General Lascy, at the Head of 1500 Muscovites, advanc'd to the principal Gate of this City, and fummon'd the Magiftrates to open it; he acquainted them, that if they obey'd readily, he would treat them as Friends, but if they refus'd, he fhould be oblig'd to make Ufe of military Rigour; whereupon the Gates were opened without any Hefitation: The Polifh Garrifon had quitted the Place about three Days before, upon News of the Ruffians approaching.

Rome, Jan. 9. On Sunday laft a Stranger arriv'd here from France under the Appearance of a Merchant, having as fuch enter'd his Bufinefs upon the Examination at the Gates; he was accompanied by two Perfons, whom he pretended were his Affiftants, and took up his Lodgings at fo indifferent an Inn, that no Body fufpected him to have other Occupation than what he profeffed; but the next Day People were furpriz'd to fee him conducted in fome State to the Chevalier de St. George's Palace, to whom he prefented Letters, fuppos'd to be of great Importance, feeing the Chevalier immediately fent away my Lord Dunbar, his Prime Minifter, to acquaint the French Ambaffador with their Contents, and had the next Day an Audience of the Pope, and after that a long Conference with the faid Ambaffador. From all thefe Circumftances, People furmize that fome uncommon Affair is on the Carpet in Relation to him, and the unufual Diftinction that the Pope has lately beftow'd on him, adds to the Alarm; for befides the Ceremony of the Guards formerly mention'd, his Holinefs has publifh'd an Order, that the Coaches of all Foreigners, of what Diftinction foever, fhall for the future ftop and give Way to thofe of the Chevalier, his Spoufe and Family. Several of the Gates and Avenues to this City are fhut up, in order to render the Examination of all Strangers who go in or out the lefs difficult. Since the late Alarm at the Chevalier's Palace, all his Domefticks, even to his very Grooms and Poftillions, walk the Streets with Swords, which was never permitted them till now.
